Can You Find It Inside?: Search And Discover For Young Art Lovers

Synopsis

Based on the best-selling series, Can You Find It?, this edition focuses on art set inside, providing a fun way for young readers to learn about classic art by bringing the museum to them. Can You Find It Inside? makes discovering art fun! After reading this book, young readers will be saying, "I spy great art!" Here's a seek-and-find book that invites youngsters to look at art in a special way: very closely! Whether it's a restaurant by Edward Hopper, a breakfast table by Fairfield Porter, or a game of keep-away by Seymour Joseph Guy, in this book each of the thirteen paintings, reproduced in full color, invites young children to explore works of art depicting a variety of indoor scenes. Written in simple rhyme with major works from The Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City, this book asks children to take a close, closer and closest look at classic fine art at an early age.

Customer Reviews

I use this book, one on one, to assist first grade readers with the Reading to Rover program. This book offers children exposure to works of art, while at the same time helping them to look carefully at a picture to find specific details. This is one of the books that I enjoy using for this purpose. I highly recommend it!

Great Art Book for young children. After finding the object asked to find in text.....you can go back and ask a child to find something different in the painting. The paintings included are classics!

I bought this book to use in my elementary art classes. The students love looking for the items and I like that they are being exposed to different pieces of art.

I bought this book to give to a granddaughter. It didn't get here in time for Christmas - my fault - and she didn't mind. It's a fun book that fascinates a 8 year old.

Kids love it.
